ARNÈ SOFA

Design R&D Frigerio

Per il divano classico modulare Arnè Gianfranco Frigerio si è ispirato all’archetipo del divano italiano, tipicamente chiuso, attualizzandolo nelle dimensioni, nelle proporzioni e nella profondità, aggiungendo inaspettati elementi centrali dalle forme trapezoidali o ad angolo aperto. È un divano modulare a terra con struttura imbottita, schienale basso e bracciolo a tutta lunghezza, rivestito in pelle o tessuto, la cui caratteristica visiva è la balza, elemento che esalta la capacità sartoriale di Frigerio per un risultato classico, ma al tempo stesso capace di offrire nuove soluzioni d’arredo al passo con le mutevoli esigenze del cliente. La collezione di divani modulari si completa con una consolle integrata per creare composizioni multifunzione sempre diverse. Infine, in linea con le necessità del mondo contemporaneo dove gli spazi diventano sempre più preziosi, la collezione propone un divano-letto per completare la proposta anche per la zona notte.

For the modular sofa Arnè by Gianfranco Frigerio took inspiration from the Italian sofa archetype, classically closed, by updating the sizes, the proportions and the depth by adding unexpected central elements with trapezoidal shape or open corner. The modular sofa with base on floor with padded structure with low back and armrest full depth, is covered either in leather or fabric, where the visual feature is the pleat at the bottom of the armrest, element which enhances the Frigerio tailoring capability for a classical result, yet able to propose new furnishing solutions in line with the time and the variable needs of the customer. The collection of modular sofas is completed by a console to create multifunctional composition always different to each other. Finally, in line with the contemporary world necessities where the space becomes more and more precious, the collection proposes a sofa-bed to complete the furnishing proposal also in the night area.
